

Yes i work with students at Armstrong learning and having our students being on placement in blast is a great opportunity to explore that side of the industry and expand their professional network