

Consultation response

I object to the changes proposed to bbc news output. I would like the bbc to retain its current news channel, watched every day in this and many other houses. I would like to see the bbc retain its world news programming. There has never been a more urgent need to understand our connection to other countries in the face of the climate crisis and war in Europe. We watch the current channels for news, comment, analysis and context. Please do not reduce and water down this vital public service.
