

Hi.

I would like to see a change in the tv guide in a way that I can access it.

With my eye condition I prefer readable items in a large font with reverse contrast (white text with black background), and audio so it tells you what the title is and press another button to hear the synopses.

This would be a great help to me as at the moment I have to be very near the screen.

Thanks