Question 1: Do you consider Ofcom should approve the PSA's 15th Code of Practice in its current form? Please provide an explanation to support your response.	Yes. the move to more proactive regulation together with clear simple to use guidance, all in one place, will meet our member needs and benefit consumers.
Question 2: Do you have any views on the appropriate implementation period?	In the PSA consultation document it states that 'Once the consultation is complete and following consideration of all stakeholder responses, we will publish our final Statement and revised Code 15 later in the year'. Later this year is an acceptable timescale for the FCS.
