Subject: EXTERNAL:BBC Scotland Television Channel displacing BBC Four

Dear OfCom,

I understand, from a story on the BBC website yesterday, that your organisation is examining a proposal to displace BBCFour in Scotland from its current slot, moving it to a 'less prominent' position.

Could I suggest that the new BBC Scotland TV Channel be given the less prominent slot? BBCFour, with its mixture of history, music, culture, science as well as Scottish interest (e.g. 'The Living Mountain') deserves to be as easily accessible to viewers in Scotland as elsewhere in the U.K.
