Dear Siobhan,

I'm writing to you with regard to Ofcom's Provisional Decision on whether the BBC's involvement in BritBox represents a 'material change' to the BBC's commercial activities.

The BBC welcomes Ofcom's Provisional Decision that the BBC's involvement in the BritBox service is not a material change to its commercial activities. The BBC also welcomes the speed with which Ofcom reached this provisional decision.

BritBox is an important opportunity for the BBC to invest in and support the UK creative industries and PSB ecology as a whole. We would be happy to provide Ofcom with any further information around any concerns that stakeholders might raise.

Yours sincerely,

Chris Rowsell
Head of Regulation
