This is appalling. XS Manchester is one of the few non-DAB stations playing rock and indie and the only local station to do so. There are already numerous options for people to listen to if they want "urban contemporary music". There is no need for another one. Losing XS Manchester would be a huge blow to the listeners of Manchester, who I can absolutely guarantee won't be tuning in to Capital Xtra. Please reconsider your view to favour the change to ensure that people with my musical tastes remain catered for on the FM platform, along with the current local content.
