As a student studying radio at university I am saddened by the news. XS has been a major inspiration to me the past few years; not only getting me into new music but realising the career path I want to go have.

I listen to this station every day as it has original content and plays songs that no other station plays. Being from Manchester it keeps me updating with all the gigs going on and cool events happening in the city.

I would be very upset if the station was to stop as a big dream of mine was to be a radio producer on XS Manchester.

Thank you,

Neave Gee.
