

Yes, it is an important community resource that supports and informs the whole community.