

YES. It is very difficult to classify how compliant music and radio station offerings are with the set commitments. The target groups of listeners surely have wide ranging interests.