

Question 1:Do you agree that Ofcom should grant approval to Royal Mail for the Delivery to Neighbour service? If not please explain your answer. :

NO I do Not.

Many valuable and very personal items are sent through the post, things that you would not wish to be left in the hands of your neighbours.

It may be somewhat different to people who live in the posher areas of the country, but where I live it is filled with thieves, drug addicts and the like.

I do not want my parcels to go missing and i do not want my neighbours to know what I am receiving.

The Royal Mail is and has been in a position of trust, that trust is gone if this change happens.

Question 2:Are there other consequences following the roll out of the service across the UK that we have not included in our assessment? If so, please explain.:

Putting a sticker in open view to say that I dont trust my neighbours is not the best idea in the world, it is an invitation for retribution.

The statistics shown mean absolutely nothing, statistics can be read in several different ways to mean whatever the reader wants them to.

Question 3:Do you have any comments on the scope and wording of the proposed Notification and approval:
