

Additional comments:

i do not believe that allowing royal mail to leave mail with my neighbours is at all satisfactory. I live amongst criminals and homophobic neighbours who would welcome the chance to steal my mail or my personal details.

i in turn would not accept their mail as they could in turn accuse me of interfering with their mail.

i also find the idea of a sticker pathetic as it can easily peel off or damage the door if royal mail is meant to be so up to date why can they not have a hand held device so such as a smart phone with a list of people who do not wish to participate or if they really expect us to believe that this idea is so popular they could simply have a sheet for each round with the those who do not want mail left with others

Question 1: Do you agree that Ofcom should grant approval to Royal Mail for the Delivery to Neighbour service? If not please explain your answer. :

no i do not believe that allowing royal mail to leave mail with my neighbours is at all satisfactory.

I live amongst criminals and homophobic neighbours who would welcome the chance to steal my mail or my personal details.

i in turn would not accept their mail as they could in turn accuse me of interfering with their mail.

i also find the idea of a sticker pathetic as it can easily peel off or damage the door if royal mail is meant to be so up to date why can they not have a hand held device so such as a smart phone with a list of people who do not wish to participate or if they really expect us to believe that this idea is so popular they could simply have a sheet for each round with the those who do not want mail left with others

Question 2: Are there other consequences following the roll out of the service across the UK that we have not included in our assessment? If so, please explain.:

Question 3: Do you have any comments on the scope and wording of the proposed Notification and approval: