Question 1:Do you agree that Ofcom should grant approval to Royal Mail for the Delivery to Neighbour service? If not please explain your answer. :

No - even though they have gone ahead with it anyway.

We have several hostile neighbours.

Many items of mail contain senders details. My mail is private and I don't want others knowing who I have dealings with.

Question 2:Are there other consequences following the roll out of the service across the UK that we have not included in our assessment? If so, please explain.:

The inconvenience and cost of retrieving mail that is returned to the sorting office.

The use of stickers looks poor and it symbolises an area in decline when taken into account with the waste collection services etc.

People pay a lot of money for the aesthetic look of my property and do not want that spoiled. Imagine an Aston Martin with a sticky label instead of their badge. There needs to be a more robust alternative which is aesthetically pleasing.

Question 3:Do you have any comments on the scope and wording of the proposed Notification and approval:

No
