What do you want Ofcom to keep confidential?

Keep nothing confidential

Question 1: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not grant the request to vary the five Wireless Telegraphy Third Generation Mobile Licences by increasing the permitted maximum in-band EIRP to 68dBm as soon as practicable? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

This sounds like a commercial requirement without care to to the public with regard to the effect of substantial increase in microwave radiation. The max permitted limit is set for a reason other than on commercial ground.

Question 2: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not also apply the increased permitted maximum in-band EIRP to future 2 GHz MSS/CGC licences? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

Reason - Does Ofcom fully aware that the substantial increase in microwave radiation does not have any health effect on the public. Can they guarantee this ???
