What do you want Ofcom to keep confidential?

Keep nothing confidential

Question 1: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not grant the request to vary the five Wireless Telegraphy Third Generation Mobile Licences by increasing the permitted maximum in-band EIRP to 68dBm as soon as practicable? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

As you must be aware, there are many people, like myself, who are made unwell by the ever increasing exposure to signals from masts for mobile phones and other communication systems. To up these limits at a time that more and more studies are suggesting long term health effects as well as short term effects would not only be irresponsible, it would be an absolute travesty.

Question 2: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not also apply the increased permitted maximum in-band EIRP to future 2 GHz MSS/CGC licences? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:
