What do you want Ofcom to keep confidential?

Keep name confidential

Question 1: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not grant the request to vary the five Wireless Telegraphy Third Generation Mobile Licences by increasing the permitted maximum in-band EIRP to 68dBm as soon as practicable? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

I am deeply concerned that the proposed increase in in-band EIRP is taking place against a background of uncertainty as to the public health effects of such a move. I fear widespread public health repercussions in future, particularly for children if such a change were to be made. I would ask OFCOM to recognise that their responsibilities lie to the widest possible constituency in this country, and not just to mobile phone companies and their users.

Question 2: Are there any reasonable grounds why Ofcom should not also apply the increased permitted maximum in-band EIRP to future 2 GHz MSS/CGC licences? If so, please explain your reasoning for this:

The same reasons apply to this question too.
