Additional comments:

I can't see the point of HD on Freeview as it is Freesat after 18 months hasn't anything more to offer than a couple of HD providers of which about 75% of there output is repeats. Why waste time and money on providing HD on Freeview when the number of channels is restricted, present Freeview boxes and TV's with Freeview built in I understand won't work and surely it will just comprise of yet more repeats.

Question 1: Do you agree that copy management would broaden the range of HD content available on DTT and help secure its long term viability as a platform? :

It isn't a long term viable choice

Question 2: Do you agree that the BBC's proposed multiplex licence amendment represents the most appropriate means for securing an effective content management system on HD DTT? :

The BBC can't output good quality programs on BBC HD on Freesat what makes them think Freeview will be any different.

Question 3: Do you agree with the proposed change to Condition 6 in the Multiplex B Licence? :

Not interested

Question 4: Do you agree that Multiplexes C and D should be granted a similar amendment to their Licences as Multiplex B?. :

Not interested

Question 5: Do you agree that the BBC's proposed approach for implementing content management would safeguard citizens and consumers legitimate use of HD content, and if not, what additional guarantees would be appropriate? :

How many citizens want HD on Freeview has anyone bothered to ask them ?

Question 6: Do you agree that the BBC's proposed choice of content management technologies will have only a negligible impact on the cost of HD DTT receivers and their interoperability with other HD consumer equipment? . :

Who is going to waste money on a new Freeview HD box when there are so many ordinary Freeview boxes/TV's in the market place now

Question 7: Do stakeholders agree that the BBC's proposed Huffman Code licensing arrangements would have a negligible effect on the market for HD DTT receivers? :

Don't care

Question 8: Do the BBC's proposed content management states and their permitted use for different categories of HD content meet the requirements of other HD broadcasters on DTT? . :

Don't care

Question 9: Are there any issues that you consider Ofcom should take into account in assessing the BBC's proposal, that have not been addressed by this consultation?:

There are areas in the UK that can't even get Freeview perhaps Ofcom should address that problem before wasting time trying to control Freeview HD
